Speech/Language News

August 31st, 2020

Dear Speech/Language Families,

Hi! My name is Miss. Nicole and I am thrilled to work with your child for speech and language therapy this school year. I am so happy to get to know all the new Wilkshire families and to continue working with the families I met last year.

A Little Bit About Myself:

I am originally from the Lansing area and received my B.A. and M.A. in Communicative Sciences and Disorders from Michigan State University. I have experience working in private, home health, sub-acute rehab, and outpatient therapy settings before transitioning to the school system last year. I enjoy working with children of all ages and I take great pride in helping each child reach their individual goals. I am also passionate about working with children who struggle with reading, writing, and spelling because this is often impacted by speech and language development. I previously lived in Tampa and Indianapolis after college and I am so happy to be back home. I love exploring new cities, going to the beach, watching sports, participating in run Disney events, and spending time with my family, friends, and my dog Louie.

This School Year

As we begin the school year virtually, I will be posting assignments to my Seesaw Classroom weekly. I have attached a QR code so that you can access the Seesaw Classroom, but please let me know if you have any issues with the link. I plan on spending these first few weeks of school allowing your child to "settle" into their new routine and build rapport with their classroom teacher. I will be updating IEP paperwork, learning plans, connecting with their teachers, and assisting with classroom learning as needed. I look forward to scheduling therapy sessions with the kids as we settle into the new school year.

How to Reach Me:

I know this school year will be unique in many ways, but I truly look forward to working with you as a team to help your child with their speech and language development. Please do not hesitate to call or email if you ever have any questions. My phone number is (517) 648-4354 and my email is dixonnr@haslett.k12.mi.us.

Thank you so much! Go Wizards!
